BCCI prepares white paper for IT sector compliance

Kolkata, Nov 14: In the wake of formation of the first-ever trade union for the IT services sector in the country, the Bengal Chamber of Commerce and Industry is preparing a white paper on compliance for the IT sector in the state.

Reacting to the formal launch of the West Bengal IT Services Association (WBITSA), BCCI Vice-President and Chairman of IT sub-committee, S Radhakrishnan told PTI that they were in process of preparing a white paper on compliance awareness for the entire IT sector.

"We do not want others to tell us what IT industry should follow and thus we are preparing the white paper for distribution among IT companies," Radhakrishnan said.

He, however, said that the formal launch of the trade union was in line with expectation.

"Currently, the union's target is only IT services, mainly BPOs, but I am not sure about future," he said.

Asked whether he had seen the website of CITU sponsored association, he said, "I am yet to have a look." The website has advised guidelines to IT services companies. It suggested a 48-hour-weekly work schedule.

Earlier, last week the IT industry in a release after a stock taking meeting on the issue said: "None of the industries are overtly concerned about formation of a union as long as all activities are carried out within the ambit of law and without any attempt at coercion. Otherwise this might affect our image in the minds of international investors and clients."
